Not Struggle Between the Winner, Ben Eder, Fremier, and The Swain-Battling Fin-takes Between Lincoln II., Arabian and

Asure and Abuse, Leedsville and Beldemere The racing at Brighton Beach yesterday after noon was as good as any seen this year, 8,000 per sons applauding to the echo the finish in the Premier, and The Swain passed the wire so closely bunched that a blanket would have covred them. They finished in the order named above, and Handicapper McIntyre came in for many flattering comments on the excellence of his work. Lincoln II., Arabian, and Azure furnished another sensational race, while Abuse, Leedsville, and Beldemere were head and head as they struggled under the wire in another soulstirring contest.

George M. Smith withdrew his pair, Belmar and The Winner, from the Test Handicap and when Brandy wine and Chum were also scratched but five entries remained. This did not solve the question of supremacy by any means in the estimation of the talent, as speculation began, with every candidate receiving liberal support. At the close it was 13 to 5 against either Dutch Skater or Premier, 3 to 1 Lehman, 4 to 1 Ben Effer, and 5 to 1 The Swain. The Swain's grand performance on Friday, when he won the seven-furlong handicap in 1:25%, with 118 pounds on als beck, brought him many friends. As a general thing the son of Galore is a bad actor at the post, but yesterday he was very tractable, and as a consequence a good start was secured with very little delay. Sloan moved so quickly with Premier that the little chestnut horse took the pole away from Ben Eder in the opening furlong, Dwyer's four-year-old dropping back last and showing no disposition to keep pace with the others until Sims roused him a few times with the spur. Going up the backstretch Premicr was a length before The Swain and Lehman, who were in turn a length and a half before Dutch Skater and Ben Eder. The Skater horse found the clip very warm and gradually dropped away from Ben Eder, who once he made up his mind to run put his best font forward in carnest and joined the bunch. As the field swung around the upper turn The Swain showed in the van, and len Eder, running clear round his horses, took second position at the head of the stretch.

When once squared away for home it became the flar, est kind of a struggle. Whips and spurs were freely used. First The Swain and then Ben Eder would spurt and assume a temporary leadership, but all the time Lehman and Presmer were right at their shoulders and battling most determinedly. The strain was terrific, and The Swain, who really does not fancy over seven trilongs, was first to guit under it. Then, when it looked resiest for Ben Eder, the long-leggred, good-satured Southern boy Scherrer shot Lehman up and won by neck and shoulcers. In Eder was a head before Premiers, while I'm Eder was a head before Premiers, while I'm Eder was a head before Premiers, while I'm Eder was a false favorite for the opening dash at one mile. Tod Sloan roae the four year-old, and the talent gladly accepted even money against the Bromley coit. He got off well, and took the track at the start, only to be headed by Manchester on the upper turn. Taral went to work on Sanclo at this point, and got into second place when the stretch was reached. Nothing could stay Manchester's victorious career, and the son of Sir Modred won very cleverly. Sapelo was second, and Sir Play third. Orion is pounds better on a muddy track than over a dry course. He performed remarkably well at Milwaukee last year, especially over a heavy track, and was said then to Bromley & Co. for $5,000. He took sick in the East during the autumn, and so far has falled to win a race for his new owners. Manchester's lest race in the nud was a remarkably poor one, and the stewards of the meeting interviewed Atkin & Lottridge, his owners, whose explanations must have been matisfactory.

meeting interviewed Atkin & Lottridge, his owners, whose explanations must have been satisfactory.

William Lakeland's George Boyd won the Sceend race, for two year-olds, at six furlongs, after a sharp drive with Mr. Baiter. Mr. Baiter was favorite at 2½ to 1, but Olney and George Boyd were each hold at 3½ to 1, and Spencer at 4 to 1. Come Quick and Ella Daly were the outsiders at 60 to 1. Mr. Baiter rushed to the front at the start, Taral olacing George Boyd in second position and waiting until the head of the stretch was reached. This pair had outstripped the balance of the field ere this, and when it came to a fight between them, the brother to Presno drew away and won by nearly a length, also favored the balance of the field ere this, and when it came to a fight between them, the brother to Presno drew away and won by nearly a length, ablay Baiter beat Olney two lengths for second money. Junior showed speed for three furlongs or so and then died away.

Lincoln II, was an odds-on choice for the dash at a mile, and, while he won, he gave his backers heart disease. A rabism opened up quite a gap going up the backstretch, while Lincoln II, was piodding away in the rear and apparently badly testers. A zure took second place on the upper lar, and Passover also made play at that point. Thorpe had been rousing Lincoln heartily, and when the head of the stretch was reached he pulled out to go outside of Aracian, Azure, and Passover. Realizing fastantly that he could not go there and win, the clean-sheaded lockey took him back and made a desperate play to get through on the rail. Wapahire, who rode Arabian, did not see Thorpe until the Californian colt was up into the gap, Then Lincoln II, closed like a whirlwind and won by a good length. Arabian beat Azure a sbort head for second money. Thorpe was liberally rewarded for his brilliant finish by the plaudits of the crowd.

Beldomere was a slight favorite over Abuse for the fifth race at six furlongs. Taral had the mount on the latter, while Sloan was up on Beldemere was a slight favorite over Abuse for the fifth race at six rurlongs. Taral had the mount on the latter, while Sloan was up on Pittsburg's Phil's mare. Leedsville, Doggett up, was at 4 to 1. Abuse led all the way and won in a grueiling finish by a head. Leedsville beat Beldemere a neck. Doggett rode Leedsville too close to Abuse in the final sixteenth of a mile, and as Taral was using his whip, the three year old was struck over the nose a few times, causing the colt to throw up his head sharply. Doggett pulled out a little, and Sloan, who was immediately behind with Beldemere, endeavored to squeeze through. He would have won had the distance been greater. After the race Sloan complained that Taral and Doggett had squeezed him, but the stewards ruled that he went into the tight place with his eyes open and placed the horses as they finished. Tom Cromwell, owned by M. F. Dwyer, was one of the contestants in this race. He was claimed by the Kensico Stable, owners of Successful, for St. 300. At this figure Tom Cromwell is a remarkably cheap horse.

BRISTOL, England, July 17 .- The cricket match between the Gentlemen of Philadelphia and Gloucestershire ended to-day in a victory for the home team by an inning and twenty-nine runs. Patterson and Lesster made a great stand for their scores of 53 and 62, and before they were separated they had increased the score from 25 to 136. The other batsmen could do nothing with the bowling of Grace and Rob-erts, and eight wickets fell for 17 runs. The score:

Wipes Out American Records from States to Twenty Miles—He Will New Meet Michael -Very Good Racing in the Shorter Events The twenty-mile match race between Fred Titus of this city and J. Frank Starbuck of Lewisburg, Pa., held at Manhattan Beach yesterdar, resulted in a veritable walkover for Starbuck. The intense interest manifested in long-distance races between the big riders brought 3,000 people to the beach, but Titus disappointed his friends by retiring at six and a half miles and spoiling what was expected to be a great race. The short-distance races, while interesting and hotly contested, were of minor consideration, in view of the big event.

At the conclusion of the short-distance events. both Titus and Starbuck came out on the track accompanied by a corps of pacemakers. "Quad." triplet, and "quint" teams, including some of the fast local riders, were chosen to pace the two riders. After considerable delay in arrang-ing the pacing machines, the riders were ready to start at 5:15 o'clock. A triplet team steered by Frank Waller arranged to pick Titus up on the start, while a "quint" was to act as Starbuck's first pacer. The pacing machines crossed the tape, and when the starter's pistol was fired Titus, with a tremendous push, attempted to jump into the lead, and as a result pushed the pedal crank clean off his wheel. This accident taking place at the start was fortunate, as it resulted in Starbuck's recall. After a delay of half an hour, Titus's wheel was re paired and the men were started again. The same pace-making arrangements pre-valled. On the second start Titus jumped ahead, caught his triplet, and at once drew away from Starbuck. The 'atter caught his pacing ma-chine, but the "quint" crew was not under full headway, and as a consequence Starbuck was placed at a decided disadvantage. Passing the judges' stand on the first lap Titus was a clear fifty yards in advance of Starbuck. The former, it was evident, was riding at a tremendous pace, which, if maintained for twenty

it was evident, was riding at a tremendous pace, which, if maintained for twenty miles would result in the creation of new records. Titus's pacemakers were clearly more expert than his opponent's aides. At each change of pace Titus took up the fresh crews without any loss and on each lap was making decided gains on Starbuck. The latter, on the contrary, lost on every fresh pick-up. His tesms, while composed of some good men, displayed lamentable ignorance of pacing methods. Titus's clear gain at the start was well received and his adherents were confident he was in condition to win handily. On the third lap Starbuck's triplet team ran away from him and Titus continued to gain.

At one mile Titus's advantage was large, At two miles, while riding easily, he had an advantage of fully a quarter of a lap and was still gaining. Avaller's triplet team was doing the most effective work for Titus. Behind this crew he held close up, and went around at wonderful speed. The first mile was covered in 1 minute 57 1-5 seconds, and the third mile in 5 minutes 51 1-5 seconds, and the third mile in 5 minutes 49 2-5 seconds.

At three and a half miles Titus was three-fourths of a lap in advance, and affairs looked decidedly gloomy for Starbuck. At this stage of the race, however, a change took place. Starbuck's pacing teams, admenished by him, began to exertise better judgment, and his pick-ups were much more prompt. As a result he began to close up on his rival. Thius's loss stimulated his pacemakers to stronger work, and they again pulled the New York rider away.

Titus covered four miles in 7 minutes 50 2-5 seconds and five miles in 9 minutes 54 1-5 seconds. At the latter distance he was almost a hap in advance, but Starbuck was riding desperately and he was slowly but surely commencing to reduce Titus's lead. Thus's loss stimulated his pacemakers to stronger work, and they again to call repeatedly to his pacemakers to slow up. The instructions were unheeded, and as a consequence Titus began to be a the first himinutes 56 3-5 and consequent to say of treath compelled him to stop.

The crowd was at first disposed to be uncharitable, and logan to hiss. The adverse demonstration, however, subsided, and all eyes were turned upon Starbuck to see how his opponent's retirement would affect him. Without reducing his speed, he continued right on.

The meet managers found themselves in a sorry predicament, and were much exercised over Titus's withdrawal. Realizing that the public must get an exhibition, they hastily concluded to add Titus's pacemakers to Starbuck's and have the latter continue for the record. This plan worked admirably and seemed to inject new life into Starbuck, who buckled down to hard work and began to roll off miles in fast time. The seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth mile were covered in good time. The increased and more experienced pacemakers were just what Starbuck wanted, and behind them he rode in wonderful shape. He covered his eleventh mile in 2 minutes 3 seconds, and his seventeenth mile in 2 minutes flat. From sixteen to twenty miles he created new American records.

He finished the twentieth mile in 41 minutes 6 seconds, lowering Jimmy Michael's record by 1 minute 1 second. He rode a 06-inch gear. miles he created new American records.

He finished the twentieth mile in 41 minutes 6 seconds, lowering Jimmy Michael's record by 1 minute 1 second. He rode a 96-inch gear. Starbuck won $1,000 and will now meet Michael at Manhattan Beach on Aug. 21.

Titus's action in with rawing caused some adverse criticism. Before starting it was claimed that he was unwell and that Starbuck would win handily. Titus looked heavy and uniit for a twenty-mile race, but the manner in which he started indicated that he was in fair condition. It developed after the race was over that Titus expressed an unwillingness to ride when his wheel broke, and this circumstance, coupled with his retirement at six and one half miles, heightened the belief that he did not want to ride anyway. His performance yesterday, coming so close after his retirement from his match race with Jimmy Michael at Buffalo early in the month, led racing men to declare that he lacked sand. Titus has been riding all season in short distance races and is said to be unfit for any distance over five miles. When taken to his dressing room after leaving the track he showed signs of weakness, but his own trainer declared that if he had kept on his weakness would have passed away.

Starbuck's victory was a popular one. Last ne had kept on his weakness would have passed away.

Starbuck's victory was a popular one. Last fall he gave a close race to Michael at Mannattan Beach, and ever since has been anxious to meet the foreigner again. He will now be enabled to meet Michael, and the distance will be thirty-three miles. In this race an attempt will be made to reduce the world's records.

The summary of the twenty-mile race is as follows:

In the short distance amateur and professional races the finishes were close. In the pacemakers race Sibley of Brooklyn, with a generous handicap, won easily, George Reith scored a first and second in the amateur events. Sam Brock won his heat handily in the third-of-amile dash, but Newhouse beat him out in the final in a very close finish. Soveral falls occurred, and some of the riders were badly bruised. Joseph Caccavajo, the Brooklyn amateur, took a full in the half-mile handicap and did not regain consciousness for fully fifteen minutes. Summary:

BALD BEATEN.

Loughead, the Canadian Champton, Wins by Six Inches at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, July 17 .- Fred Loughead, the Cana dian champion, took the measure of Eddie Bald to-day at the Fredonia A. C. National Circuit meet. Forty-five hundred persons saw a great race in the one-mile open, in which Loughead evened up scores for his defeat by Bald in the one-mile race of June 12, on the New York cir-cuit. Loughead lost then by a tire's width. Today, however, he won by six inches, the most surprising thing that could have happened in Bald's own town. Bald made an attempt at the one-mile record and did 0:54 1-5 for the first half. His chain broke in the last half. He went a half again in 0:50 3-5. Goehler, the crack amateur, was pocketed in the half-mile open. Detemple, a coming rider, won by a narrow margin over Miller in the record time, for single paced races, of 1:02.

The line-up for the race of the day was Bald, Loughead, Gardiner, Hoyt, Seaton, and Randali in the order named. A tandem team paced, Fred Hoyt caught the position, with Baid in second place. Loughead and Gardiner had a warm race for Bald's rear wheel, and the Canadian beat the Chicagoan for the position. Gardiner followed Loughead, Randall was fith, with Seaton, the Louisville ex-smateur, in the rear. The pace was good and positions unchanged until just before the bell, when Randall jumped, with Seaton following him. Two open-lengths were opened up on Bald at the bell. The latter was then out after Randall and, closing with him on the backstretch, started around the outside. Loughead did not follow. He and Gardiner being pocketed in the line just at the pole. Loughead slipped cleverly through, and rounding into the stretch be started for home. The finish was between Bald and the Canadian, Gardiner being pocketed back on the pole. Loughead jumped and Bald was at his side again, but could not pass him. Loughead rode a hard and stendy race, and won by six inches, Fred Hoyt was third and Gardiner fourth. The tlime was 2:08. follow.

Great interest has been shown in the present sharp-shooters' contest, even in Switzeriand. Officials of the cantons of Thurgau, Schaffhusen, Wallis, and Reuchatel have donated valuable prizes. The bwiss Government sent over a valuable gun, with 1,000 cartridges, and the shooting society Wintherthur donated a sliver cup.
